Maximizing Rotary Die Cutter Stacker Efficiency

Moderators: Ed Stuczynski

With today's demand on machine operating efficiencies, getting the most out of your rotary die cutter is critical. One of the biggest constraints on die cutters is the stacking of the die cut sheet. This program will feature industry experts explaining how to get the most out of your die cut stacker. They will stress the importance of training, operational techniques and pre press. They will also educate you on maintenance programs and upgrades available to get your late model stackers up to today's standards.

Please join us for this program and learn about ways to improve your plant's material flow, production and throughput.
